Experience It! Wild Atlantic Way

Stretching over 1,500 miles, the Wild Atlantic Way hugs the west coast of the island of Ireland. It covers the area from Donegal to West Cork and is home to a quintessential Irish landscape. Green hills meet rocky coastlines, with individualistic towns scattered along the way. Encompassing 6 different counties, travelers use the Wild Atlantic Way as a suggested route along the coast, experiencing different intricacies of Irish culture and spending time with locals. One of the most famous and recognizable landscapes on the route can be found at the Cliffs of Moher, where steep bluffs tower 700 feet above the ocean.

Important Tour Information:

The overall activity level of this tour is a level 3. This means you're an on-the-go traveler. You don't want to miss a thing, so walking and standing for longer periods of time (2-3 hours) isn't a big deal. A moderately paced two-and-a-half-hour walking tour, covering several miles, hills, and uneven surfaces, is no problem for you. Walking four miles over the course of a day is very doable, as is climbing into and out of various modes of transportation (tuk-tuk, cable car, zodiac, etc.). You can climb three flights of stairs easily and handle altitudes between 6,000 and 9,000 feet. Expect some longer days with early mornings or late nights balanced with free time to recharge or set out on your own adventure. This level is not a fit for travelers who require mobility assistance devices.
